At Plaza de España, we have created a space where all children can play together and learn from each other. Children experience their differences from others more directly, openly and confidently than adults. Therefore, three fundamental aspects were considered in the design phase of the play areas: Inclusivity, materials and play value.

The exciting focal point of the playground, visible from afar, is a very special tower. This structure is two pyramid towers inserted into each other, giving them their distinctive „hourglass“ shape. The cladding with narrow boards and colored accents make the tower translucent and friendly despite its imposing size of nine meters.
