

Elephant with Trunk Slide: imaginative role-playing games and plenty of exercise

The Elephant with Trunk Slide can be seen from afar. The large animal is a real eye-catcher and an impressive example of play space design. As a meeting point, it sets the atmosphere for the entire playground.

The strong expressive design makes children of all ages eager to explore its inside space. A large play area is situated in the body, which invites them to hide away and engage in role-playing games. The slide in the trunk allows a quick getaway to the ground. In addition to imaginative role-playing and hide-and-seek games, the play sculpture actively promotes exercise such as climbing and sliding. It appeals to children from the age of six and is particularly suitable for public playgrounds, parks, exhibitions and leisure parks.
